Notes:

1. Basis of preparation

The consolidated financial statements of the Company have been prepared in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards ("HKFRS"). The consolidated financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of investment properties, available-for-sale financial asset, financial assets and financial liabilities (including derivative instruments) at fair value through profit or loss, which are carried at fair value.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with HKFRS requires the use of certain critical accounting estimates. It also requires management to exercise its judgement in the process of applying the Group's accounting policies.

- (a) Effect of adopting amendments/revises to standards and interpretations
  - (i) In December 2010, the HKICPA amended Hong Kong Accounting Standard ("HKAS") 12, "Income Taxes", to introduce an exception to the principle for the measurement of deferred tax assets or liabilities arising on an investment property measured at fair value. It introduced a rebuttable presumption that an investment property measured at fair value is recovered entirely through sale. This presumption is rebutted if the investment property is depreciable and is held by within a business model whose objective is to consume substantially all of the economic benefits embodied in the investment property over time, rather than through sale.

The amendment is applicable retrospectively to annual periods beginning on or after 1st January 2012 and the Group has early adopted this amendment retrospectively for the financial year ended 30th June 2012. Prior to the amendment, deferred taxation on investment properties at fair value is measured to reflect the tax consequences of recovering the carrying amounts of investment properties through use. The Group has reassessed the business models of the Group's investment properties located in Hong Kong and the People's Republic of China (the "PRC") individually. The carrying values of investment properties held by the Group are expected to be recovered through sales.

The amendment has been applied retrospectively and the comparative figures for 2011 have been restated to reflect the change in accounting policy, as summarised below.

The effect of the adoption of HKAS 12 (Amendment) is as follows:

The Group is principally engaged in the manufacturing and trading of plastic materials, pigments, colorants, compounded plastic resins and engineering plastic products.

The chief operating decision-maker ("CODM") has been identified as the Executive Directors of the Company. The CODM considers the business from the operations nature and the type of products perspective, including the trading of plastic materials ("Trading"), manufacturing and sale of colorants, pigments and compounded plastic resins ("Colorants"), manufacturing and sale of engineering plastic products ("Engineering plastics") and other corporate and business activities ("Others").

Each of the Group's operating segments represents a strategic business unit that is managed by different business unit leaders. #### BUSINESS REVIEW

The sovereign debt crisis in Europe and the US has led to a continuous slowdown in the global economy. Consequently, the Group bolstered cost control and adjusted its business strategies, which resulted in improved business performance in the second half year. Gross profit margin rose from 8.1% in the first half year to 9.2% in the second half year, whereas the full year gross profit margin dipped modestly by 1.3% year-on-year. Gross profit maintained at the level of HK$141,520,000. The results thus marked a turnaround from a loss position in the first half year, with profit before taxation of approximately HK$11,365,000 reported in the second half year.

During the period under review, the Group implemented strict control to lower inventory levels and adopted effective cost control measures. Such efforts enabled the Group to maintain sales volume and turnover levels that resulted in a healthier financial position. The Group's cash at bank and on hand as at 30th June 2012 increased slightly by 12% to HK$93,349,000 when compared to that of 31st December 2011. Gearing ratio enhanced as well, declining to 65.8% and bank borrowings dropped by 14% to HK$294,367,000 when compared to that of 30th June 2011. The Group also maintained a healthy balance sheet.

It is worth noting that the Group achieved fruitful results in terms of seeking potential customers and developing new products and markets. It secured new orders from internationally renowned brands in the automobile and electronics sectors, among others in the year under review. Although faced with uncertain economic conditions, the Group's overall turnover declined only modestly by 3% when compared with the corresponding period last year.

Rising labour cost and inflation have however caused the Group's distribution costs and administrative expenses to increase by 11% and 9%, respectively. Moreover, the borrowing interest rates in Mainland China has continued to rise during the period under review, leading to a 35% increase in finance costs. Including the Group's other gains, such as fair value gains on investment properties, net exchange gains and unrealised fair value gains and realised gains of derivative financial instruments that amounted to approximately HK$18,504,000, profit/loss attributable to equity holders for the year was HK$1,365,000.

Among the three major businesses of the Group, the colorants, pigments and compound plastic resin business segment achieved the most satisfactory performance during the year. Driven by outstanding sales performance from its business in Shanghai, the Group's turnover grew by 16% to HK$360,588,000 when compared to the same period last year. The growth was driven by the Group's efforts toward nurturing ties with customers capable of delivering higher gross profit margin. Also, the Group strengthened relationship with existing customers so as to boost order bookings. Certain food packaging customers even appointed the Group as their key supplier to centralise their orders which were previously dispersed to other suppliers. All of these developments helped drive turnover growth of this business segment. Additionally, the Shanghai subsidiary successfully penetrated the automobile market during the year and secured new orders from famous automobile brands. Thanks to the persistent efforts to control expenses, the Group managed to maintain costs at a level similar with the corresponding period last year and increased gross profit margin by approximately one percentage point. The growth in turnover also enabled the Group to achieve greater economies of scale, leading to a surge in profit before taxation of 73% to HK$32,978,000.

Uncertainties over the macro-economy and continued slowdown in exports to Europe and the US led to the decline in overall demand for engineering plastics. Turnover of this segment decreased by 13% year on year to HK$235,018,000 while gross profit margin remained at a similar level with the corresponding period last year. Taking into account that operating expenses doubled during the period of factory relocation, profit before taxation correspondingly dropped by 32%. However, the Group believes that the impact of the factory relocation was only temporary. Once fully operational, the new factory will help boost the Group's profitability and allow it to pursue business expansion in Mainland China. Besides the new Tai Po plant in Hong Kong having commenced operation last year, the Group also has expanded the production facility in Shanghai for the engineering plastics business this year. The new production line will not only increase capacity, but will also consolidate and expand the Group's business in Southern and Eastern China, lead to greater operational efficiency and allow it to capture a larger share of the Mainland China market. The new Shanghai production facility has begun operation during the year and has received new orders since July of this year.

The plastics trading business, which targets ultimately Europe and US markets through exports from Hong Kong, was affected by the European debt crisis. Compounded by a drop in raw material prices during the period, a decrease in the selling price of products consequently resulted, in turn causing a fall in turnover of 6% to HK$1,042,202,000. As such, the Group implemented measures to lower inventory, leading to a decline in gross profit margin. Gross profit margin decreased by around 2% year on year. During the year, apart from implementing inventory control measures, the Group also leveraged its competitive advantages to focus on promoting specialised products with stable prices and higher margins. Furthermore, the Group received new orders from heavy industry manufacturers to produce accessories for electrical devices and automobile parts, helping the Group maintain its growth momentum.

PROSPECTS

Looking at the second half of 2012, overall market conditions will continue to be affected by uncertainties over the global economy. However, price fluctuations in plastics and oil have narrowed and the management expects raw material prices will stabilise with operating costs declining for the plastics industry. Besides, the China market will continue to grow and remain as the Group's key development focus. The Group will actively entice new customers and explore new markets in Western China in order to enlarge its market share in Mainland China. In addition, the Group will continue to employ strict cost controls, broaden sources of income and reduce expenditures so as to maintain healthy business growth.

In respect of colorant and compounded plastic resin products, seeing the outstanding sales performance of the Shanghai operation, the Group will replicate the successful business model to other sales offices in Mainland China such as Guangzhou, Western China and North-eastern China. At the same time, the Group will establish closer ties with its customers, build long-term cooperative relationships with more international brands and explore opportunities via its link with the International Colour Alliance. The plant in Hong Kong will also plan to expand production lines for colorant and compounded plastic resin segment to complement business development and enhance operational efficiency.

Leveraging the successful business model from Shanghai sales office, the Group will implement aggressive strategies to expand the engineering plastics business network in Mainland China. During the year, plastic replacements for stone and wood entered the Eastern China market. In respect of the Southern China market, the Group will adopt the successful model in Hong Kong to further consolidate its market share in the region. The new plants in Shanghai and Hong Kong will not only position the Group more clearly in the Southern and Eastern China markets, but will also complement its production model and create synergies for its business. During the review year, the Shanghai plant added two production lines and received orders since July 2012. The management expects the expanded production capacity will strengthen the Group's competitive advantage and achieve greater cost efficiency.

Although uncertainties still exist in external markets, the Group will continue to sustain stable growth in the plastic trading business by controlling costs and gradually lowering inventory. The Group will also actively expand into new markets and develop the specialised plastics business with higher profit margins. Such moves will in turn enhance the Group's profitability over the long term.

Overall, the Group will continue a business direction that aims at maintaining stable growth, streamlining operations, controlling costs and lowering inventory to address changing market conditions, as well as improving operational efficiency by utilising the new production lines at the plants in Tai Po and Mainland China. With outstanding capabilities and a solid reputation, the Group's subsidiary in China secured entrusted loans from several banks during the year, allowing the Group to enjoy greater financial management. As finance cost controls are expected to deliver benefits in the second half year, this will provide ample resources for the Group to capture future opportunities.
